

The Institute of Urgent Care Medicine was founded in 2009 to bring a best practice standard and academic rigor to the practice of urgent care medicine. Since then, the company has produced the discipline's first and only comprehensive, curriculum-based, training and continuing education programs.

The Core Content in Urgent Care Medicine is a 66 CME credit hour program for physicians, nurse practitioners and physician assistants (www.urgentcarecme.com).

The Core Content in Urgent Care Nursing and Medical Assisting offers over 50 video lectures and demonstrations covering all the core competencies of urgent care nursing (www.urgentcarenursing.com).

President and Founder, Dr. Lee A. Resnick has been at the forefront of urgent care education and specialty development for over a decade. He also serves as the Editor-in-Chief of JUCM, the Journal of Urgent Care Medicine and is founding co-editor of the Textbook of Urgent Care Medicine (www.urgentcareeducation.com)
